A Letter from the President

Greetings Easy Riders

As the season winds down, hopefully March will give us some quality riding conditions. I've been observing this season from the sidelines due to my health issues but I'm on the mend and expect to be back for next season. What I have observed is a season that started very slowly and has been a rollercoaster of trail conditions in NH and most of Maine, other than the northern Aroostook County where they seem to be having a good season with plenty of snow. Another of my observations this season is the amount of snowmobilers involved in accidents at road crossings due to speed of just ignoring the stop signs, this is a very dangerous gamble that has cost some their lives. Please slow down and obey the road crossing signs.

As far as club news goes, the date and location for the end of the season banquet has been selected. The date is Saturday April 29th at the Bolton Street Tavern in Marlborough. More details will be announced soon.

I would also like to thank Greg Conlan for filling in for me this season. He's doing a great job running the meetings and keeping everything moving in the right direction. Thanks Greg!

On a side note, I was talking to my dad the other day and he mentioned to me that this is the first year in 52 years that we didn't go snowmobiling together. I had to think about that for a few and I must say I really miss riding this season but being a member of the Easy Riders, with all the communication and Facebook posts of peoples rides. This has pacified my desire to get out and ride. I can't wait for next season!

Well, there is plenty of riding left this season so get out there and enjoy!

Ride Right, Ride Safe

Mike Nicoli

Easy Riders Snowmobile Club

Western Quebec Tour

February 12 – 18, 2023

The title of this article says it all. A tour of western Quebec is really all about the gas. Four of us – Ron L, Steve V, Paul T and myself, Tom R from the Easy Riders Snowmobile Club from Massachusetts – began our 5 day riding tour from Shawinigan, Quebec and traveled north to Roberval on Day 1, then northwest to Chibougamau on Day 2, then southwest to Senneterre on Day 3, then southeast to Fer a Cheval in Mont Laurier on Day 4, then southeast back to Shawinigan on Day 5. We all carried an extra fuel caddy on our sleds except for Steve who actually carried two caddies stacked on his sled, our sleds were: Ron, 2023 Skidoo Renegade Enduro 600R ETEC; Steve, 2023 Yamaha Sidewinder turbo; Paul, 2020 Skidoo Renegade Enduro 900 ACE; and me with a 2021 Skidoo Renegade XRS 900 ACE turbo. The fuel caddies were definitely required on this trip on Day 2 (154 miles between gas stops) and Day 5 (162 miles between gas stops). Otherwise, fuel wasn't a problem. All of us used the fuel caddies on both days except for Paul who chose not to use it on Day 2 but was virtually on fumes when we finally pulled in to the gas station. Thankfully, all sleds ran flawlessly.

Our trip was planned ahead of time with the focus being the hotel destinations and most importantly the location of gas stations along the way. We were traveling in some very remote areas. We had three GPS units. Ron had the BRP GoApp in his dash which was pretty much useless. Unfortunately, it's still a work in progress. Paul and I had the GPS Trailmaster mapping on our Garmin GPS units mounted to our sleds which was outstanding except for Day 5. Our planning was spot on except for Day 5 when the two operational GPS units were in disagreement and we veered off our original agreed upon course. We were so glad we had the extra gas on our sleds that day though as we all needed it.

Daily details of our trip are listed below. Basically, this was a grueling trip designed for young folks, not us old farts who range in age from 60-69. But we loved it. I don't think any of us would ever do it again, but at least we can cross it off our bucket list. We would get up and leave every morning between 6am and 8am and ride anywhere from 201 to 278 miles each day and arrive anywhere from 2:15pm – 9:15pm. Our average distance traveled was 240 miles per day for a total of 1200 miles for the trip, The highlight of our trip was Fer a Cheval in Mont Laurier where we were treated to gourmet dinner and breakfast and a first for us - valet parking of our sleds to a heated storage garage complete with delivery back to our rooms the following morning. So nice! Here's some details of our adventure:

Day 1, February 13, 2023 – Shawinigan to Roberval

Hotel Energie to gas in Shawinigan at 13 miles to gas and lunch at Lac Edouard at 126 miles to gas and the Hotel Manoir in Roberval at 220 miles. Temps 25-36 degrees F, sunny to overcast. Issues – Ron delayed our start by 20 minutes because he thought he left his car keys at the hotel. Oops, they were in his sled all along. Steve blew a corner but recovered. Trails were bumpy a good part of the day, especially trail 355, a trail that was also bumpy our last time on it years ago. Lesson learned, avoid trail 355 at all costs. We left at 8:05am and arrived at 5:35pm. Average miles traveled per hour from start to finish was 220 miles / 9 hrs 30 minutes = 23 mph

Day 2, February 14, 2023 – Roberval to Chibouamau

Happy Valentines Day. Hotel Manoir to last gas at LaDore at 39 miles, then 154 miles through an Indian reservation and logging camp to the next gas stop in Chibougamau at 193 miles and then to Hotel Nordic in Chibougamau at 201 miles. Ate snacks on the trail. All required extra gas from fuel caddies except Paul who just made it. Trails were outstanding allowing serious cruising speeds of 60-70. Overcast all day long. Temps in the mid 20's. Steve missed another corner but recovered. We forgot to stop when we crossed the 49th parallel. Damn. We left at 7:45am with snow covered sleds and arrived at 3:30pm. Average miles traveled per hour from start to finish was 201 miles / 7 hrs and 45 minutes = 31.5 mph

Day 3, February 15, 2023 – Chibougamau to Senneterre

Hotel Nordic to gas at 27 miles in Chapais to gas at 102 miles in Desmaraisville to gas and lunch at 164 miles in Lebel su Quevillon to gas and Hotel Bell Villa in Senneterre at 230 miles. Temps in 30s and overcast all day long with some light rain in the morning. I missed a corner but recovered. Incredible trails again today. We left at 6:45am and arrived at 2:15pm. Average miles traveled per hour from start to finish was 230 / 7 hrs 30 minutes = 30.7 mph

Day 4, February 16, 2023 – Senneterre to Fer a Cheval

Hotel Bell Villa to gas and breakfast at 71 miles at Lac Faillon to gas and lunch at 174 miles at Clova to Fer a Cheval in Mont Laurier at 270 miles. Flash freeze warning last night resulted in very icy trails that caused excessive darting of all sleds for a few hours in the morning. Very difficult to control sleds. Temperature dropped from 40 degrees to -10 degrees overnight. Sunny day warmed up to low 20s. Used ice scratchers all day long today to lubricate slides. Trails great up until a little past Clova, then bumpy for 60 miles to Fer a Cheval. We determined the groomer broke down because we saw the groomer skid abandoned on the trail. Damn. Steve went off trail one more time but had to be pulled out with rope. I went off trail one time on a straightaway while riding last and was pulled out by passerby sledders as my group kind of forgot about me. No one in my group actually witnessed my mishap so it doesn't count, haha. Fer a Cheval was first class all the way. Our sleds were valet parked to a heated garage upon our arrival and brought back out the next morning. So nice. We were kind of disappointed that they didn't fill up our sleds with gas for us. That would have been really sweet. Treated to a gourmet dinner with choice of filet mignon or Salmon complete with dessert. Gourmet breakfast also included. We left at 5:50am and arrived at 4:50pm. Average miles traveled per hour from start to finish was $270 / 11 \text{ hours} = 24.5 \text{ mph}$

Day 5, February 17, 2023 – Fer a Cheval to Shawinigan

We left Fer a Cheval after a full breakfast and fill up with gas. Woke to 12-15" of new snow. First stop was gas at 37 miles at 100 Lacs to gas at Manawan at 116 miles then an adventure of some sort that led us over the Taureau Lake Dam and then ending up at a clubhouse in or near Shawinigan for a well deserved break to include dinner at 226 miles to the Hotel Energie in Shawinigan at 278 miles. We all emptied our fuel caddies on this last stretch except for Paul who had to borrow gas from Steve. I'll let him explain why, something about a missing key for his gas caddy LinQ lock. Our revised route took us to areas where there were no gas stations available. Steve went off trail once again and had to be pulled out with a rope. Was someone getting tired or was it all that tequila? What a long day. GPS units were not in agreement all day long. Perhaps we should have listened to Ron and extended the trip one more day. Temps never got above 5 degrees all day. We left at 8:15am and arrived at 9:15pm. Average miles traveled per hour from start to finish was $278 / 13 \text{ hours} = 21.5 \text{ mph}$, our worst day of the trip. What a way to end our trip but no matter, it was certainly a memorable trip we all are grateful to have accomplished. Can you say that?
